The continuation of the large gold exports shows little signs of abating, and is exciting the wonder of commercial circles inasmuch as the surplus in the hands of New York bankers keeps on growing. This is a condition which challenges the study and explanation of financial experts. George Becker believes in keeping the money at home, and hence places Pacific and Fredericksburg beer and good things to eat before his customers.

The recent defeat of the Mormons at Ogden has aroused the saints to prevent the possibility of any such occurrence in the coming municipal election at Salt Lake. They do not propose to be caught napping again, judging by the large number of naturalization papers now being issued to newly arrived converts from the old world, and by the interest suddenly taken by all classes of the faithful. But this situation does not not embarrass patrons of the Wieland saloon from enjoying the hot lunch and cool beer that is placed before them every day.

Advice to Mothers.

NOTABLE INUNDATIONS.

Some of the Great Floods of History.

It becomes interesting to note some of the great floods of history. One of the most notable was that which, according to the old historian Camden, washed away Earl Godwin's lands on the coast of Kent, and left only the Godwin Sands. Holland has suffered many a coast flood. At Dordt, in 1446, the sea broke in through the dikes and drowned the people of seventy-two villages, in all 100,000 persons. The dikes failed in 1530 and nearly 400,000 people died. The celebrated Ripon flood in Yorkshire was in 1771, and in 1787 over 2,000 persons lost their lives by the sudden torrents from the mountains of Navarra. In 1813 the overflow of the Danube drowned 2,000 Turkish soldiers, on a small island near Widdin, and in Silsick the floods practically ruined the French army under MacDonald. The Vistula overflowed and broke its dikes in 1829 and swept away 10,000 cattle and 4,000 houses.

Two famous floods in France were those of 1840 and 1846. The former was in the southeast, and upward of one thousand houses were swept away by the Rhone. The other was in the central and southwestern part of France and destroyed $20,000,000 worth of property, including numerous costly railroad viaducts.

By the bursting of the reservoir at Lorca, in Spain, twenty square leagues were devastated and over one thousand persons drowned April 14, 1802. The property damage was estimated at $7,000,000.

The giving way of the dam of the Bradford Reservoir near Sheffield, England, on March 21, 1864, let loose a flood which swept fourteen miles of valley in two hours and caused a loss of $1,800,000, besides drowning 250 persons. This is the disaster which is made to figure in Charles Reade's "At Yourself in His Place." The area of the Bradford Reservoir was seventy-eight acres, and its dam at the highest place was nicely five feet high.

The Williamsburg, Mass., disaster was on May 17, 1874. The dam of a 100 acre reservoir gave way, and $1,000,000 worth of property was ruined. One hundred and fifty persons lost their lives.

The Johnstown Reservoir accident of Friday night last week surpasses all similar casualties in every respect. This reservoir had an area of over twenty-eight hundred acres, and its waters when freed from confinement devastated an area of hundreds of square miles.

CONGRESSMAN BURROWS.

What He Has to Say About the Organization of Congress.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Between times as they are occupied in running after offices for their constituents, the Republican Congressman are thinking very seriously of the trouble they may have before them in getting the House in working order. All Speakerhip candidates, while they are keeping quiet, are hard at work. There is a general feeling that there should be an extra session of Congress in September or October, but there are several members like Butterworth who oppose the proposition to meet before December. Butterworth has advised the President against it. The most common expectation points to an early session. The idea is that they have to start early because they are apt to have a very interesting time before them. Burrows, of Michigan, is very much interested in the matter of organization, and said to-day: "Our majority is very small, and there is undoubtedly great danger of getting checked at the start, as we have only about three majority. The elections in the new States will possibly increase this to six or seven. In order to do anything every man will have to be in his seat. On the most trying occasion it is seldom in the history of Congress that many more than that number have not been absent. In order to have a quorum there will have to be a binding agreement entered into with every man, pledging himself to be in his seat at 12 o'clock and not to leave the hall of the House until there is a recess or adjournment. But even with this agreement there is the matter of sickness, which may keep members away, and it cannot be helped. If the Democrats are disposed to fight over the adoption of the new rules and the settlement of contested election cases, and if they determine to filibuster, there is a block at once. I think there is great danger in it. All parliamentary law recognizes the right to make motions to adjourn over to a certain time and to take a recess, now, by repeating these motions, the House may be held powerless. Why, I could take such a man as Sam Bandall, and, by using these motions, we could prevent the swearing in of members and hold the House unorganized for a full term of two years. We could dismantle the Government."

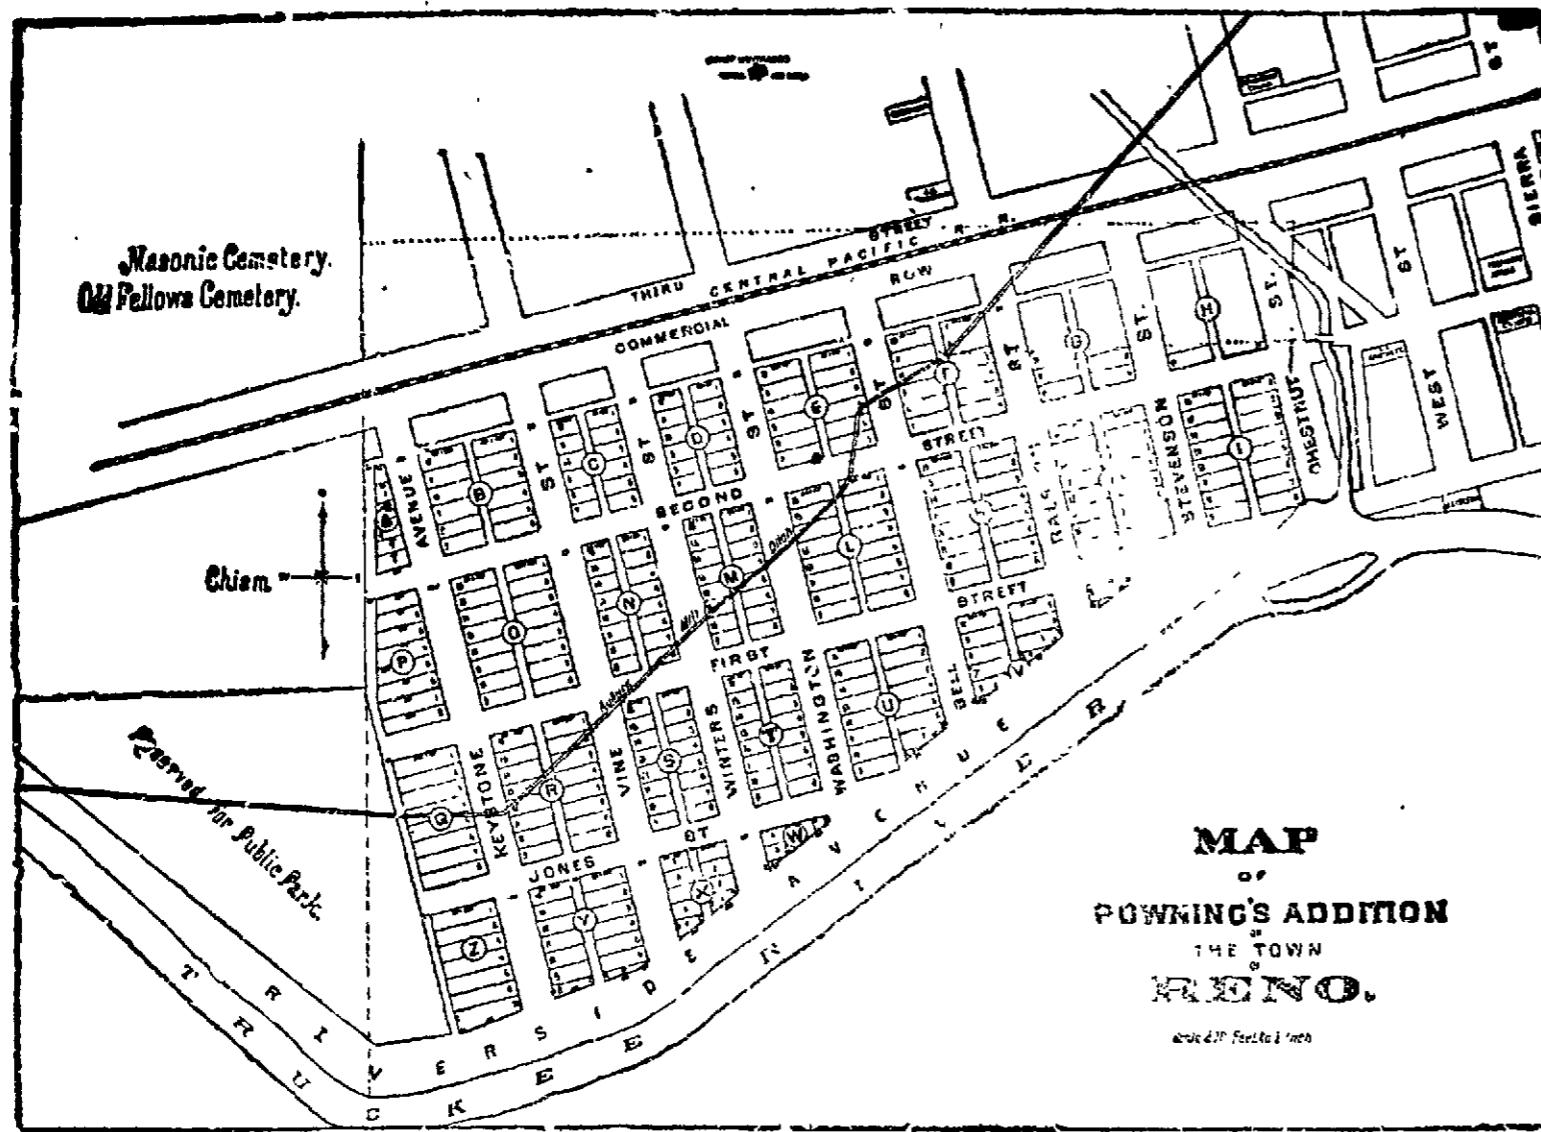

Continuing, Burrows believed if the Republicans selected a firm man for Speaker, who would, after dilatory motions had continued some time, refuse to recognize them, business would be transacted, the election cases settled and the country would approve the method.

WHAT ON EARTH
Is the reason people will not, can not or do not see any difference in cheap nostrums put up by cheap John houses or irresponsible parties of ignorant profiteers rather than take a more rational and scientific view of the subject? Is there universal satisfaction at "all price"? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BRIGHT'S BLOOD PURIFIER AND BLOOD MAKER, and yet here is that does not do its work will cast you nothing.
